

Wrigley 2002

On Saturday, June 15, eight Legends attended the annual Legends White Sox - Cub battle at Wrigley. As Legends tradition dictates, the allegiances were evenly divided. In the White Sox camp were Joe, Ed, Frank, and Gary M while the Cubs were represented by Jerry, John and the two Mikes.

After a couple brewskis, Gary and Mike K headed to the bleachers. It was at that point we became the object of women's desires at the bar. Many came by for a spot of Legend. We believe that it was more than coincidence that the women overcame their shyness after Gary and Mike left.

The final score was Cubs 7, White Sox 3. Ed refused to stand and sing 'Take me out to the Ball Game' in the seventh inning.

The trip home was without event except that John's van swayed back and forth so much that Mike B, Mike K, and Gary were getting nauseous sitting in the back.
